Board Comment:

President Ryan something that has consistently come up from community members, how is it that we have seen reinvestment through LCFF? Talked about LCFF funding structure and the populations that it serves and yet we have not seen an increase in revenue for the district at a level sufficient to not find ourselves in a deficit. Jacquie responds, that is a good point. When initially done they thought this was going to help but school districts who don't have unduplicated count, they are facing real problems. A lot of this "new money" ended up needing to go to other things. It really shows in district in who have an unduplicated count. They are having an extremely hard time.

Member Murawski commends on transparency. Much easier to understand than a lot of budget presentations in the past. Looks forward to continually improving that so we don't have a better communication. On the...

Member Murawski how does it work at a comprehensive high school? Student would be identified as falling behind or being able to benefit from credit recovery? Would that be an automated process where they get identified then how does it work? Who actually helps them? Christina Espinosa responds the business process calls that counselors identify, query the students in the system, encourage them to enroll in credit recovery course if student agrees to enroll, they would then go with the mentor teacher who would schedule the student to take the principals who were recognized by CDE yesterday as Principals' Day. Did review, on social media we did post the flood of online comments from students and past students who recognized their principals expressing their appreciation. Yesterday was honored to be with three of our principals as part of this inaugural kick off, college signing day ceremonies. Very inspired at each event. At Rosemont for example, students who were attending a community college were recognized. Students who were enlisting in the military were also recognized. Even students who entered into an apprenticeship program or just entering the work force. At Hiram Johnson there was a count down at which all of the students signed at the same time. At Luther Burbank students were called on depending on which college or university with representatives from each institution. It was just a great demonstration on how we will continue to respect at the local content what schools do. Will be a great day.
